

Unity in this movement will change the world. When all are one standing up against the face of death "There shall be no more death or mourning, crying out or pain." (Rev. 21:4)

Until we transform ourselves to welcome all life, great or small, there shall be no peace. Until each one of us is willing to "Be fertile and multiply" (Gen. 1:28) in our capacity of life we will still have the mark of death on our forehead.

Even my 3 year old knows that this world worships death. She was playing and said, "Mommy, let's play radio." Her dad often turns on the radio while cooking supper. This night I was cooking supper and she decided to play as the radio announcer. I was struck silent when her top four stories began with, "Somebody died"! Have we become so entrenched in death that we barely notice when its ugly head is raised?

There was a time when children were considered a supreme blessing of a marriage rather than a burden to society. No baby should be a benchmark or luxury or right. Every child must be loved, cherished, and nurtured from the moment of conception. One need not have a lot of money to raise a child, only true love. Love for the whole human race will bring us back and redeem our lives from the pit.

The Personhood movement will help us remember how to love one another.
